

Benefits FAQ

Syed Motors · Document Code: FAQ-02 · Type: faq · Department: Human Resources

Purpose

This FAQ provides employees with basic information about the health insurance, provident fund, gratuity, and vehicle allowance benefits available under the stated company arrangements.

The FAQ is intended to help employees understand the main eligibility conditions, contribution rules, service requirements, and benefit limits described in this document. Where a benefit depends on a detailed company policy, employees should consult the applicable policy or contact Human Resources for clarification.

The benefit information should be read together with the employee's applicable employment and HR records. Eligibility does not remove the need to follow the required company or benefit-provider process.

Effective from the first working day of the current calendar year. Reviewed annually by the document owner and revised as necessary. Version 1.0.

1. Health Insurance

Who is enrolled in the group hospitalisation plan?

Confirmed employees are enrolled in the group hospitalisation plan. The plan provides a per-family limit of PKR 500,000 per year.

The stated limit applies to the family level rather than being presented as a separate annual amount for every individual family member. Employees should contact Human Resources when they need clarification about the family definition or the treatment of a particular claim.

The insurance card is issued within 30 days of confirmation. Employees should retain the card and use it through the applicable insurance process when hospitalisation services are required.

Pre-authorisation is required for planned surgeries. Employees should therefore contact the appropriate insurance or HR channel before a planned surgery so that the required authorisation process can be completed.

Employees should not assume that an urgent or planned medical procedure follows the same administrative process. For planned surgery, the specific pre-authorisation requirement stated in this FAQ must be observed.

Questions concerning hospitalisation coverage, the family limit, insurance-card status, or pre-authorisation should be directed to Human Resources or the designated benefit contact.

When will my insurance card be issued?

The insurance card is issued within 30 days of confirmation. If the card has not been received after the stated period, the employee should contact Human Resources for assistance.

1. Health Insurance — Common Questions

What is the annual family limit?

The group hospitalisation plan has a per-family limit of PKR 500,000 per year.

Is pre-authorisation required for planned surgery?

Yes. Pre-authorisation is required for planned surgeries.

What should I do if I need planned surgery?

The employee should follow the applicable pre-authorisation process before the planned surgery. Human Resources or the designated insurance contact can provide clarification on the process.

What if I need information about family coverage?

The FAQ states the annual family limit but does not define the detailed family categories. Employees should refer to the applicable HR or insurance policy for that information.

2. Provident Fund

How much do the employer and employee contribute?

The employer and employee each contribute 8.33 percent of basic salary.

The contribution is based on basic salary as stated in the document. Employees should refer to their HR or payroll records for the applicable basic-salary figure used in their employment records.

The employee and employer contributions form part of the provident fund arrangement. Employees should retain their relevant employment and payroll information for reference when questions about contributions arise.

Withdrawal is available on separation or on approved emergencies involving medical or housing needs after two years of service.

The two-year service condition applies to the stated emergency withdrawal route. An employee requesting an emergency withdrawal should use the applicable HR process and provide the information required to establish the qualifying reason.

Provident fund questions concerning contribution records, service duration, or withdrawal should be directed to Human Resources so that the employee's individual record can be checked.

When can I withdraw from the provident fund?

Withdrawal is permitted on separation or for approved emergencies involving medical or housing needs after two years of service, subject to the applicable approval process.

2. Provident Fund — Common Questions

What percentage does the employee contribute?

The employee contributes 8.33 percent of basic salary, and the employer contributes the same 8.33 percent.

Is the contribution based on total salary?

The document specifically states that the contribution is based on basic salary.

Can I withdraw for an emergency?

Approved emergencies involving medical or housing needs are included as a withdrawal route after two years of service.

What happens on separation?

Withdrawal is available on separation under the stated provident fund arrangement. Employees should complete the required HR process.

3. Gratuity

How is gratuity calculated?

Gratuity is paid at 28 days of last drawn basic salary for every completed year of service.

The calculation uses the employee's last drawn basic salary and completed years of service. Partial years should not be treated as completed years when applying the wording of this FAQ.

Gratuity is paid on separation for employees with more than five years of service. The service requirement therefore applies before the stated gratuity payment becomes applicable.

Employees approaching separation should contact Human Resources to confirm their service record and understand the applicable processing steps.

The HR department maintains the relevant employee information used for benefit administration. Questions about service duration or last drawn basic salary should be directed to HR rather than estimated by the employee.

Who is eligible for gratuity under this FAQ?

Employees with more than five years of service are eligible for gratuity on separation under the stated rule.

3. Gratuity — Common Questions

What salary figure is used?

The calculation uses the last drawn basic salary.

How many days of salary are used for each completed year?

The stated rate is 28 days of last drawn basic salary for every completed year of service.

Does the rule apply to less than five years of service?

The document states that gratuity is paid on separation for employees with more than five years of service.

Where can I confirm my service period?

Employees should contact Human Resources, which maintains the relevant employment records.

4. Vehicle Allowance

Who is eligible for the vehicle benefit?

Employees at Grade M2 and above are eligible for a company vehicle or an equivalent monthly allowance.

The benefit therefore depends on the employee's grade. Employees who need confirmation of their grade or eligibility should refer to their HR record or contact Human Resources.

The benefit may be provided as a company vehicle or as an equivalent monthly allowance. The applicable arrangement should be confirmed through the relevant HR process.

Fuel and maintenance are covered per policy. Employees should follow the applicable policy and administrative process for fuel and maintenance expenses rather than assuming that every vehicle-related expense is automatically covered.

The vehicle allowance arrangement is subject to the applicable company policy. Where the FAQ does not specify a detailed operational rule, employees should obtain clarification from Human Resources.

What is covered for an eligible employee?

The document states that fuel and maintenance are covered per policy. The detailed conditions and limits are governed by the applicable policy.

Benefits Administration

Benefit questions should be directed to the Human Resources department because eligibility and processing can depend on the employee's confirmation status, grade, service period, or individual employment record.

Employees should provide accurate information when requesting benefit assistance and should use the required HR process for formal requests.

Where a benefit involves an external provider, such as group hospitalisation insurance, employees should follow the provider-related process communicated through the company. HR can provide clarification about the company-side process.

Benefit Reference Summary

Gratuity: paid at 28 days of last drawn basic salary for every completed year of service, on separation for employees with more than five years of service.

Vehicle allowance: employees at Grade M2 and above are eligible for a company vehicle or equivalent monthly allowance, with fuel and maintenance covered according to policy.

Employee Responsibilities

Employees are responsible for understanding the basic eligibility conditions stated in this FAQ and contacting HR when individual clarification is required.

Employees should provide requested supporting information through the appropriate HR process and should not rely on informal arrangements when a formal benefit process is required.

For benefits involving time limits, service requirements, or eligibility conditions, employees should verify their status before making assumptions about entitlement.

The FAQ does not replace the detailed HR Policy Manual or benefit-provider rules. Where a question is not answered here, the employee should contact the document owner for clarification.

Approval and Ownership

This document is owned by the Human Resources department and approved by the Branch Manager. Questions or clarifications should be directed to the document owner.

The document is reviewed annually by the document owner and revised as necessary. Employees should use the current version when referring to the benefits described here.

Non-compliance is a disciplinary matter under the HR Policy Manual. Employees are expected to follow the applicable HR and benefit administration processes.
